DEDICATION

We, the class of nineteen hundred and forty-eight, do respectfully dedicate the 1948 GAL-LEON to Rev. William F. Furlong, Vice-President of Seton Hall College—a man who has been recognized and admired by the faculty, student body, and all who know him, for his devotion and love of God and obedience to His will, for his example of christian virtue and humility, as well as for his priestly manner and gentlemanly attitude.

Father Furlong considers the call to the priesthood his greatest honor and most precious gift. An alumnus of Seton Hall College and Darlington Seminary, he was ordained in 1932. Given the opportunity to further his education by His Excellency Archbishop Thomas J. Walsh, Father Furlong's quest for learning was fulfilled at Columbia University where he received the degree of Master of Arts. Upon the completion of his studies he became a member of the College's English Department.

Following his duties as a professor, Father Furlong was elevated to the responsible administrative position of Dean of Studies in 1945. In this capacity he guided, counseled and advised with endless patience and understanding the thousands of veterans who applied for enrollment. His efforts were rewarded the following year when he was appointed to the office of Vice-President by Msgr. James F. Kelley. It was through these undertakings and the conscientious fulfillment of his obligations that he won the esteem and confidence of the entire student body.

To Father Furlong, for his endeavours, for his friendship, and for his guidance, we express our sincere thanks.

FOREWORD

The Class of 1948 really began in September, 1945. It was at that time that Monsignor James F. Kelley made the unprecedented announcement that Seton Hall College would open its doors to all qualifying veterans. When the buildings began to bulge at the seams, new ones were erected. Thus, it was our destiny to matriculate at Seton Hall during the period of its greatest expansion. It was our desire to grow along with our Alma Mater. Whether we have attained that propensity will be determined by our progress in the coming years.

As graduates of a Catholic college we shall be called upon to defend our Christian principles with clearness and determination. As young men of higher education we shall be expected to seek our vocations in the arts, professions, and business fields.

The product of an accelerated educational program we shall have to make our way in an accelerated world. We shall be the criterion by which this type of education is judged. Social barriers have been hurdled; the voice of tradition has been drowned in the cacophony of crowded classrooms. This is education for the common man! No school ties here—here no hyphenated surnames—this is education for the masses! Does it work? The Class of 1948 says it does.

Posterity will watch us closely. We shall measure up.

The Department of Business Administration was instituted and developed to provide a specialized curriculum for the purpose of training young men in the technical aspects of Business Administration and at the same time to enable its students to acquire a liberal training in the arts, sciences, and philosophy through the medium of the academic departments of the College. Dr. Frank W. Naggi, Department Head, believes that it is its function to provide training in those fundamental economic and business relationships and techniques which will be of service to the student in facilitating his adjustment to a specific technical and specialized task in actual business.

DEPARTMENT OF MODERN LANGUAGES

JULIUS S. LOMBARDI, PH.D.
University of Laval
Head of Department

The Department of Modern Languages is prepared to offer Majors in the fields of French, Spanish, Italian, and German. Dr. Julius S. Lombardi who became Head of Department in 1946, has placed special emphasis on the reading courses of the Romance Languages. Such courses as 17th and 19th Century French Literature, The Novel in Hispanic America, Readings in Modern Italian, and German Civilization are stressed. The basic concepts of phonetics and the fundamentals of grammar and syntax are inherent in every elementary language course. Special attention is paid to conversation and composition. Every candidate for a degree must pass through the Modern Languages Department.

The English Department is the third oldest department in Seton Hall College, junior only to the Classical Languages and Philosophy departments. Rev. Thomas W. Cunningham became its head in the Fall of 1946. Every student in Seton Hall is required to take courses in the English Department. Seton Hall is one of only thirty-three colleges in the United States which require American Literature for English Majors. Seton Hall is also one of the few American colleges offering every period of English Literature, including the Medieval, usually omitted. Radio Writing, and other creative writing courses have been added to the curriculum in 1948.

The Department of Social Studies provides the general courses in this field that are required of all candidates for degrees, as well as the more specialized work required for major study. Majors are offered in a general program of Social Studies, in History, Political Science, and Sociology. Courses in Contemporary World Politics, International Organization, Social Studies, Research, as well as Criminology, Juvenile Delinquency, Labor Problems, and Social Case Work, make this department one of the most varied and wide-reaching in the College. Rev. Joseph H. Brady, Head of Department, instituted a General Major in Social Studies as a better preparation for teaching or for the study of Law, and a more comprehensive contribution to his general culture.

DEPARTMENT OF PHYSICAL SCIENCES

The Science Department has a two-fold object: (1) to prepare students for commercial, industrial and graduate work; (2) preparation for the study of Medicine and Dentistry, and for the teaching profession. Since an ever-increasing number of aspirants has forced the professional schools to choose only selected and outstanding subjects, Seton Hall has sought, by the institution of a Committee on Evaluations, to facilitate and insure a choice of worthy, representative young men. Rev. Michael I. Fronczak, and Dr. Matthew Steel, Department Heads, adhere to conservative and rather rigorous standards, and are generally guided by the suggestions of the Association of American Medical Colleges.

DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION

The Department of Education, under the able direction of Dr. Joseph M. Connors, essentially provides for the pre-service professional training of parochial and public school teachers on the secondary school level. The Department operates a comprehensive Personnel Service through which it endeavors to secure, by means of standardized tests and personal interviews, an accurate appraisal of the candidate for secondary school teaching.

Head of Department

REV. DANIEL A. MURPHY, A.M.
Fordham University

Mr. Manuel Herschdorfer became head of the Mathematics Department in 1946. The department is in a building process at present. Mr. Herschdorfer is endeavoring to stress mathematics and present it from the most approved theoretical viewpoint accepted by mathematicians of note. His purpose is to correlate math with the students' other studies, not merely to present it as a subject apart. A Mathematics Club is in the embryonic stage. It will have a three-fold purpose: (1) To hear lectures by prominent mathematicians and scientists; (2) To have discussions on the practical aspects of mathematics; (3) To foster student guidance and solve problems.

DEPARTMENT OF PHILOSOPHY

The Philosophy Department is the oldest in Seton Hall College. No student is accepted in the Department who has not given evidence of intellectual ability, mature judgment and studious habits in the work of his Freshman and Sophomore years. Dr. Francis M. Hammond was appointed Head of Department in October, 1946.

DEPARTMENT OF PHYSICAL EDUCATION

The purpose of the Health and Physical Education curriculum is to prepare the student for teaching, coaching, and administrative positions in schools and related fields. Mr. Victor DiFilipo, Head of the Department, stresses the development of personal skills in physical activities together with comprehensive presentation of methods and techniques of teaching physical education, health education and recreation. Each student is given opportunity to participate in varsity sports, and in a broad intramural program.

DEPARTMENT OF CLASSICAL LANGUAGES

The Classical Languages Department provides the basic courses for the Bachelor of Arts degree, as well as more advanced work for those who wish to specialize in the field. Reading courses in Livy, Horace, Tacitus, and St. Augustine are required. The student is introduced to Greek in its Attic form. Extensive readings from Homer's Odyssey and a study of Aegean Civilization round out the course of study.

THOMAS CUSICK

In Memoriam

Heading the list of Seniors is a Setonian who was missing when the 1948 Class trekked across the stage to receive its degrees in June. Tom Cusick, a candidate for a B.S. Degree in Business Administration, was killed in an airplane crash on September 8, 1947, while serving on active duty with the Naval Air Reserve.

Flying a plane similar to the type he flew from the deck of the carrier Yorktown during the war, Tommy was on a routine flight from New York to Cherry Point, North Carolina, when his plane crashed in a swamp twenty miles south of Norfolk.

An active and well-liked student, Tom was elected Treasurer of the Junior Class. The young air enthusiast was also a charter member and Treasurer of the God Club.

The Class of 1948 mourns the loss of Tom Cusick, but his memory will forever be inscribed in this memoir of our college days.

When only one man ran unopposed for the presidency of the Junior Class last Fall, school authorities began to wonder if Seton Hall had a Junior Class. The Dean of Men was confident. There must be a Junior Class. His search took him to Dr. Hammond's Dialectics class where he found more than five hundred engrossed in a discussion of "The First Operation of the Intellect." After much persuasion these staid and learned men put aside their philosophy, held elections and named the officers pictured here. To the Student Council the class sent Al Dardis and Tom Mager. On December 13 the Juniors held their Christmas Dance on the campus. Almost three hundred couples attended the affair, enjoying continuous dancing to the music of Jim McArdle and Dick Page and their orchestras. Refreshments were served by roving bus boys. A committee was formed to consider the purchase of class rings, and as a result, many Juniors are sporting their school jewelry. The class was well represented at the Galleon Ball, in fact, one member grabbed the spotlight. It seems that he drove home only to get stuck in the driveway and discover that he had the wrong car. The error was later corrected. The "Forty-Niners" now turn to their own social event, the Junior Prom, to be held early in May. It is rumored that used cars will be awarded as door prizes.

The Sophomore Class

Sixteen hundred strong, the Sophomores stormed the campus last Fall to show Seton Hall what a political campaign should be. With sandwich men, hand-bills, baby kissing, and promises of a Utopia to come, the second-year men elected their class officers. The Gay Nineties Dance was the fruition of their social affair promises. Eight hundred guests were greeted by shirt-sleeved, mustachioed waiters who led them to candle-lighted tables covered with red and white checkered cloths. Music by Bob Gordon's Orchestra and a floor show which included Paul Brenner, Will Oakland, the Four Chords, Jim Magee, and Tom Conrad, gave the Sophs a night to remember.

Besides colorful foliage, Fall brings a new school year and a new Freshman Class. This year it is a class of distinction in the number of its members fresh from P.A.D., Trig, and English 4. Struggling with the terrors of Voice and Diction and the vastness of 8.1, they have made themselves at home. Elections organized the class, and in January the Frosh held their "Snow Ball" featuring the music of Bob Walters and his orchestra. February introduced three hundred more men to the ranks, swelling the class to over sixteen hundred and seriously challenging the supremacy of the Sophomores as the largest class. Now the class looks to the future that some of those campaign promises might be kept—in fact all Setonians await "beer in every faucet." Or didn't he get elected?

Galleon Ball

Setonia's biggest social event of the winter season was the annual Galleon Ball held at Frank Dailey's Meadowbrook, Cedar Grove, N. J., on February 6. More than six hundred formally-attired couples danced to the music of Tony Pastor and his Orchestra. Two broadcasts of the ball were transmitted—one of them on a coast-to-coast network.

One of the features of the evening was a short recital by James Magee, outstanding tenor of the College Glee Club. The latter organization was represented by an octette which presented popular selections. Dmitri Nold of the Julliard School of Music was piano soloist.

The committee, under the direction of Chairman William J. Barrett, performed a herculean task in organizing and promoting the most successful post-war social affair of Seton Hall College.

Grand Opera Comes to the Hall

The Charles L. Wagner touring company in two scenes from Puccini's MADAMA BUTTERFLY on the spacious stage of Seton Hall's gymnasium. The orchestra is under the baton of Edwin McArthur.

MADAMA BUTTERFLY

On December 14, 1947, the beautiful gymnasium of Seton Hall College was the scene of the first grand opera to be presented on the campus. The proceeds of the event established a fund for a memorial park and shrine to honor Setonian students who gave their lives in World War II.

Mr. Charles L. Wagner's cast made of the poignant Belasco drama and Puccini score a production outstanding among the musical concerts seen in South Orange. Jon Crain, one of the most promising tenor "finds" in years, and Mary Henderson, soprano of the Metropolitan Opera Company, sang the leading roles. The distinguished young American conductor, Edwin McArthur, was the musical director.

Sophistication retreated before the flying boots of our more hardy rustics who showed us the intricacies of "swing your partner, doe-see-doe" and other homely harmonies. Following this down-to-earth demonstration, all present tried their hand (or, rather, their feet) in this realization of rural rhapsodizing. This rugged exercise made more enjoyable the cider and doughnuts which were provided as fitting refreshment for a bucolic buffet.

When the frost first colors the quadrangle we all look forward with increased expectations to a rise in the tempo of Setonia's social life. This year campus society struck its stride at the Harvest Hop. The night was perfect for dancing. All the members of the Smart Set donned their plaids and overalls and filled the gym. The crowd was delighted with the appearance of the auditorium. Tom Arminio and his committee had done a wonderful job with the place. The "Old Woodshed," the cornstalks, the scarecrows rattling under the gobbling of the turkey transformed the floor into a festive cornfield.

HARVEST HOP

One of the features of the Harvest Hop was the turkey raffle. The harried bird, after a tussle with the ubiquitous Joe Menza, was turned loose and raffled off. The happy winner, aided by Clem Rachel, showed remarkable agility in catching his prize. The evening ended with a show which all hands enjoyed. There were many fine performances, but the climax of the affair was a marvelous exhibition of trick rope-twirling. When the barn doors were closed and the animals bedded down for the night, all the hay seeds agreed that the Harvest Hop was very close to being the perfect college dance.

LE CERCLE FRANCAIS

Le Circle Francais, the French Club of Seton Hall College, is one of the most active groups in the school. In connection with Caldwell College for Women, the organization last year produced the first French plays on the campus, "L'Anglais Tel Qu'on le Parle" and "Rosalie." Both shows were successful. This year two more one-act plays are planned: "Les Deux Sourds" and "Les Femmes Parlent Trop."

Other activities of Le Circle Francais are French films (three have been shown in the Little Theatre) and a monthly newspaper, La Croisade. The paper is used by several other schools. A new choral group is in rehearsal. They will make their first public appearance on April 3rd in New York.

SENIOR SMOKER

It was only fitting for a crew of Senior Pirates to board the Clipper Ship Restaurant for a night of revelry on an evening in December, 1947. A goodly number of Setonians rose to the occasion, several to fall later (Editor's Note: Hic!). Jim Pinkman opened the festivities by presenting Mr. William Sharwell who conferred the Faculty blessing. A buffet dinner was served and the food disappeared rapidly. After dinner the party relaxed to a marked extent. Tom Mackin did yeoman duty at the battered pianoforte, his fingers wading through the lager beer to pound out requests. The evening ended in a spirit of comrad-erie that will long be remembered by we of '48.

VET VILLAGE VICTIMS

A "V. V." Memo

Home is what you make it, and where you find it. Here at Seton Hall, the Vet Village is home to more than two hundred students. The dilapidated barracks from Camp Shanks, N. Y., were renovated, painted, and heated. Today they present a pretty picture on the west end of the reservation.

There is always something "cooking" in vet village. If "no parking" stickers are not being scraped off ill-fated jalopies, or newspapers being stuffed in broken window panes, the campus is being defended against rival college invaders. Of course, the boarders are the biggest boosters of everything Setonia.

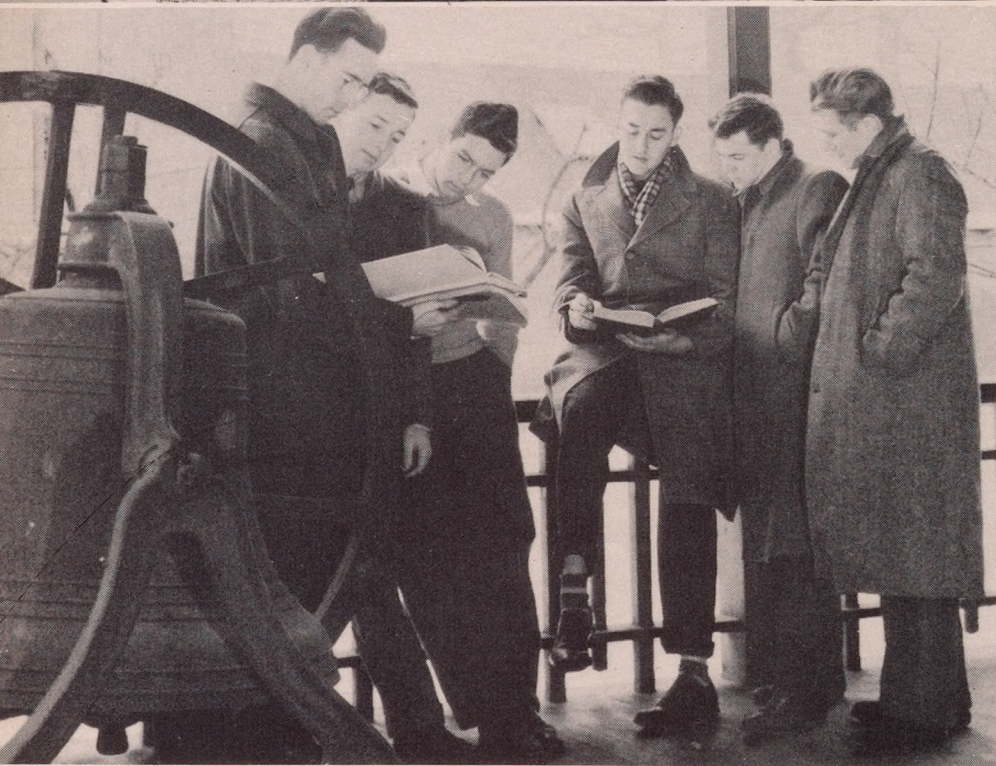

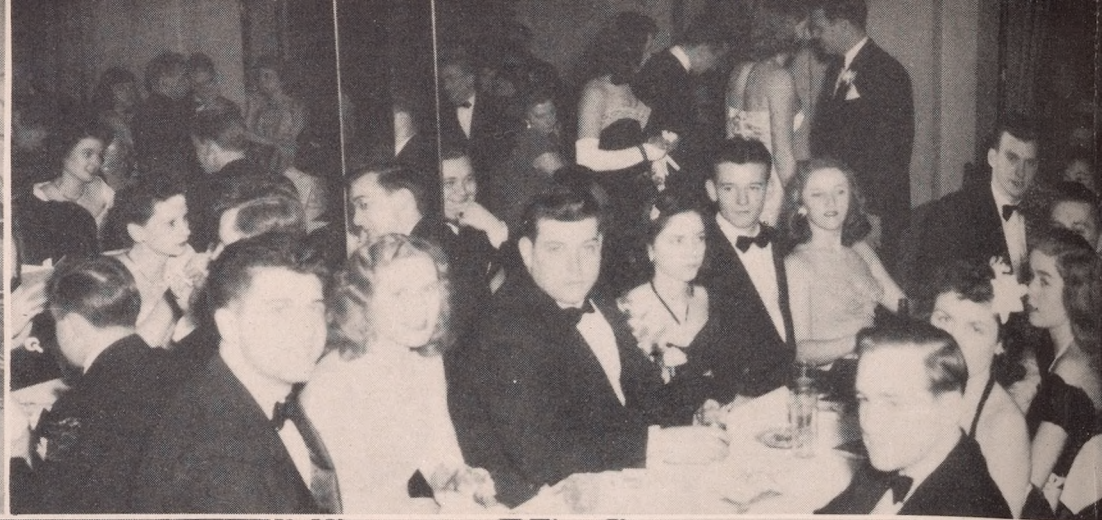

When Spring rolls around, the Vet Villagers are out on the spacious lawns with their baseball and golf equipment. Most of the Hall's star athletes are Village tenants. Although it is less than two years old, the Vet Village is already a campus landmark.

Conference in the Galleon office; G. Reiss, hungry on-looker

Photographer Jack Wiegel shoots photog George Waas

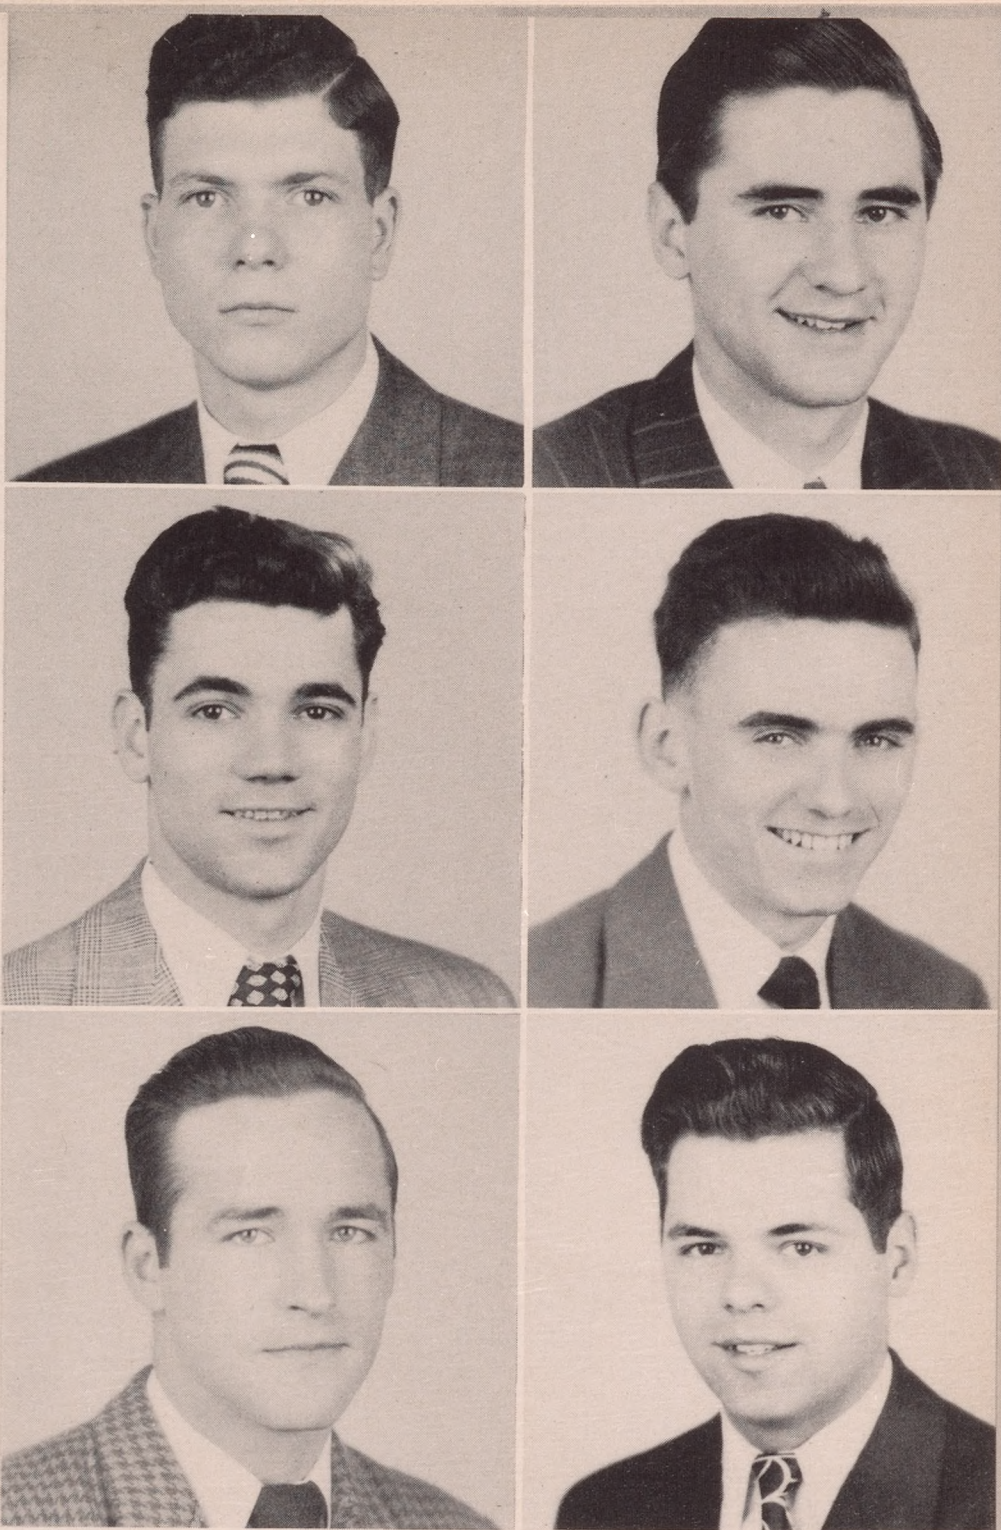

The 1948 GALLEON was conceived in the reading room of the Marshall Library one chilly evening in October, 1947. A large number of Seniors gathered to elect the Editor of the yearbook on the basis of ability and experience. Tom Mackin, ex-Navy Correspondent and magazine writer, was chosen. Subsequently, he picked the other members of the staff as pictured on these pages.

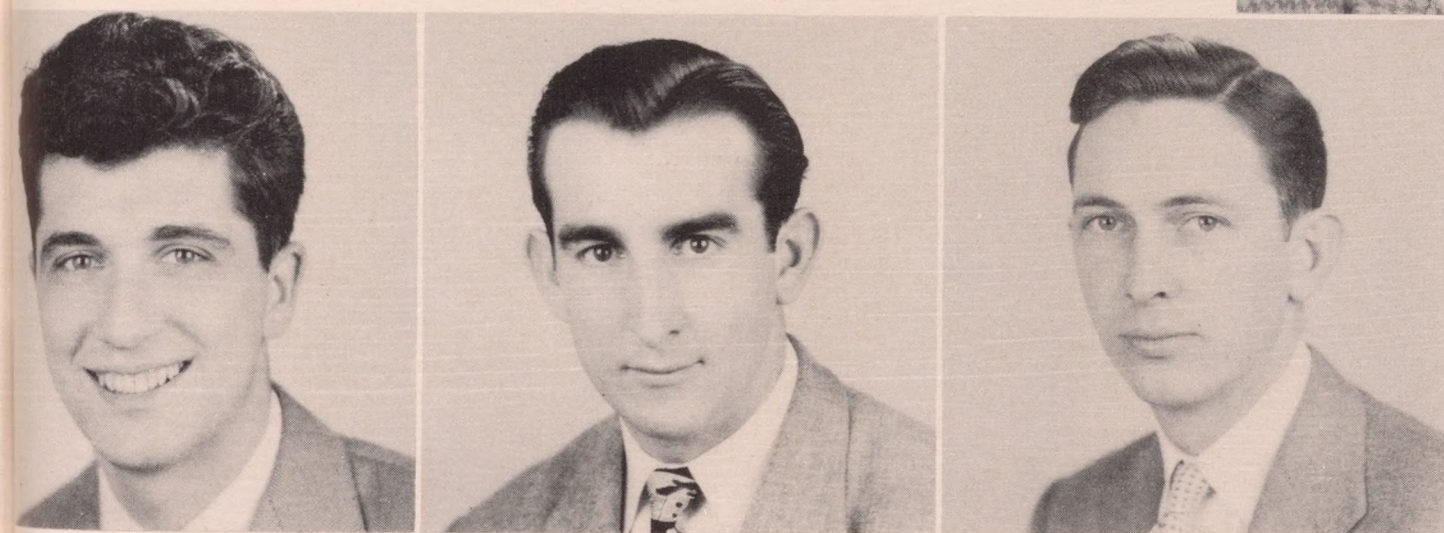

The Campus Publishing Co. of Philadelphia and Beckett Studios of East Orange were selected to do the printing and photographing of the largest yearbook in the college's history.

Many problems had to be solved in the compilation of the 1948 GALLEON. At one time they seemed insurmountable. The most vexing problem was the split schedule. In spite of it we managed to take almost one thousand formal and informal pictures. The worst snowstorm in the history of New Jersey did little to help us. Yet we must admit we had lots of fun and laughs during the hectic winter months.

If we have managed to turn out a representative memento of our days at Seton Hall, the staff is satisfied. That is all we set out to do.

The Student Council is composed of student representatives chosen from each of the college classes. It acts as a medium through which the student body may discuss its opinions and wishes with the administration and faculty. During the past year a proposal by the student council was inaugurated providing a five-minute intermission between classes. The parking problem on the campus was investigated and remedies established which relieved the existing conditions. Also, an equitable manner of distributing reserved tickets for basketball games was arranged. The student government trains its participants for administrative roles that may later be applied in lay leadership. Toward this end, it seeks to arouse student interest in campus clubs and societies of a religious, social, cultural, and professional character. It is an advisory body and co-ordinating factor in all campus activities.

The chapel on Ash Wednesday was filled to capacity with loyal Knights of Setonia who attended Mass and received Holy Communion. AT RIGHT: a view of the interior of our beautiful chapel on this day as members of the Knights approach and kneel at the Communion rail. Below: Fr. Albert Hakim, celebrant, distributes the Holy Eucharist.

The Knights of Setonia is a religious organization directed by its founder, Rev. James A. Carey. Its aim is to stimulate and promote devotion to the Blessed Sacrament. All students are urged but not compelled to belong to the society. The members pledge themselves to receive Holy Communion once weekly in the college chapel.

When the organization was founded in 1937, only one weekly mass was celebrated. Since then, the increased membership has warranted the holding of two masses. Services are held every Tuesday and Wednesday at 8 A. M. Breakfast is served in the cafeteria after mass.

Besides sponsoring religious devotion, the Knights of Setonia conducted this year's welcome dance. Music was by Charlie Slade and his orchestra. The proceeds of the dance went into the society's breakfast fund.

MORE SOCIETY

ABOVE: A regular meeting of the St. Thomas More Pre-Legal Society. Such meetings are generally held in Marshall Library under the capable guidance of Mr. William R. Dineen, Moderator. The discussions are lively and of inestimable value to all in attendance.

The St. Thomas More Society is composed of students who desire to enter the legal profession and students with a personal interest in law. The organization maintains a close relationship with the field of law to assure the proper academic training for prospective lawyers. A series of lectures was presented during the year at which prominent men from the legal profession addressed the organization. Attendance at court trials gave members the opportunity of seeing academic principles of law in action. Close contact with law schools throughout the country is maintained to provide the members with full information concerning entrance requirements in various states.

During 1947 the organization was awarded a temporary commission as regional director of International Affairs in the metropolitan area by the National Federation of Catholic College Students.

Representatives were sent to the second annual conference of the I.R.O. of New Jersey Colleges and Universities held at Montclair. Delegates were also sent to the Mid-Atlantic States Conference in the Fall of 1947.

The I.R.O. has plans for even bigger things. In the Spring of 1948 Seton Hall will be host to the combined I.R.O.'s of New Jersey Colleges and Universities. Numerous trips to the United Nations conferences in New York are also on the agenda.

The American Chemical Society Student Affiliates is a chapter member of a national institution, The American Chemical Society, the world's largest scientific body. It is composed of Science Majors with a high scholastic average. Its main objective is to further the advancement of Chemistry at Seton Hall College. Educational Tours are made to many scientific companies. Films are shown. Guest speakers lecture. Valuable contacts are made with Senior members of nearby chapters. Students are also permitted to attend meetings of the Newark Chapter as well as the National Conventions. The society acts as a medium between social collegiate academics and the practical industrial world.

William Barrett, Fred Helmstetter, Bob Campbell, John Arbes, and Nick Defino look over the library's fine selection of Catholic literature.

The aim of the National Federation of Catholic College Students is to defend and propagate Catholic principles and prepare its members for leadership in society. The delegates representing twenty-one metropolitan colleges meet monthly on various campuses. The business conducted chiefly pertains to commission activities. Seton Hall is a member of the New York-New Jersey Region.

Setonia holds the regional commission on International Relations and has delegates on all of the Region's fifteen boards. Joseph Merlino and Bernard Hehl are the senior delegates.

CAMPUS DEPARTMENTS

Two departments which every Setonian must visit are the Offices of the Registrar and Veteran's Administration. Miss Marie Fitzsimmons is the indefatigable Registrar. Her tireless energy accounts for the current phrase, "As Marie goes, so goes Seton Hall." Father Charles Murphy, the Librarian, and Mr. Thomas Milano, the V. A. representative, are heads of hard-working staffs in close contact with the students. # ★ SPORTS FINAL BASKETBALL

CAPTAIN
Frank "Pep" Saul

As usual, the basketball team of Seton Hall ranked with best in the nation. Playing a tough schedule that included such court luminaries as Loyola, Toledo, Baldwin-Wallace, Duquesne, and L. I. U., the Hall had compiled an 18-3 record by the time the GALLEON went to press.

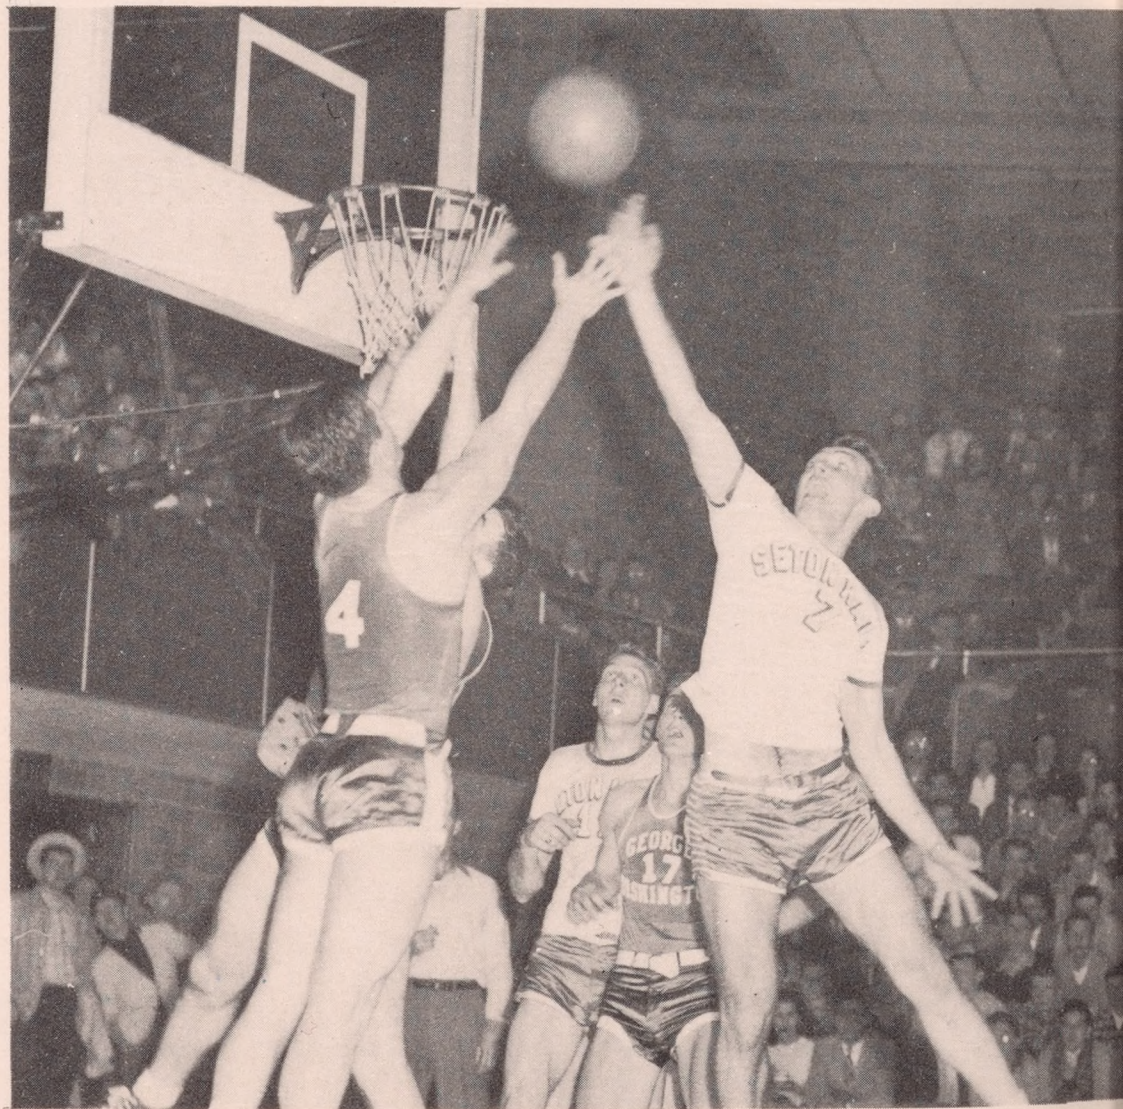

Two of the three defeats came by way of upsets. Xavier of Ohio topped the Hall 41-34 in a game which came at the end of a grueling road trip. Villanova surprised everyone by trimming the Villagers 68-60 after having succumbed to the Setonians 40-52 previously. Duquesne U. was the third team to take the measure of Seton Hall in a thriller that was disputed by local sports scribes.

The final and biggest game of the season will be with L.I.U. The score of this game can be found on page 178. Coach Harry Reitemier, in his initial year as helmsman of the team, has compiled a remarkable record.

The newest edition of Setonia's Five is paced by Captain Frank "Pep" Saul. Mentioned as a possible All-American, Saul has kept sports writers hunting for new adjectives to describe his sparkling floor game and set shooting. John "Whitey" Macknowski, the only senior on the squad, was Saul's running mate. Whitey came into his own in the Villanova game which saw him pour 23 points in the basket for a losing cause. Harry "Stretch" Renner, 6'8" center, developed his hook shot and became the third man on the varsity. Dick Hammock, Howie Janotta, Bob Hartmann, Tom Leverte, John Reilly, and Walt Kostyshyn were the other starters.

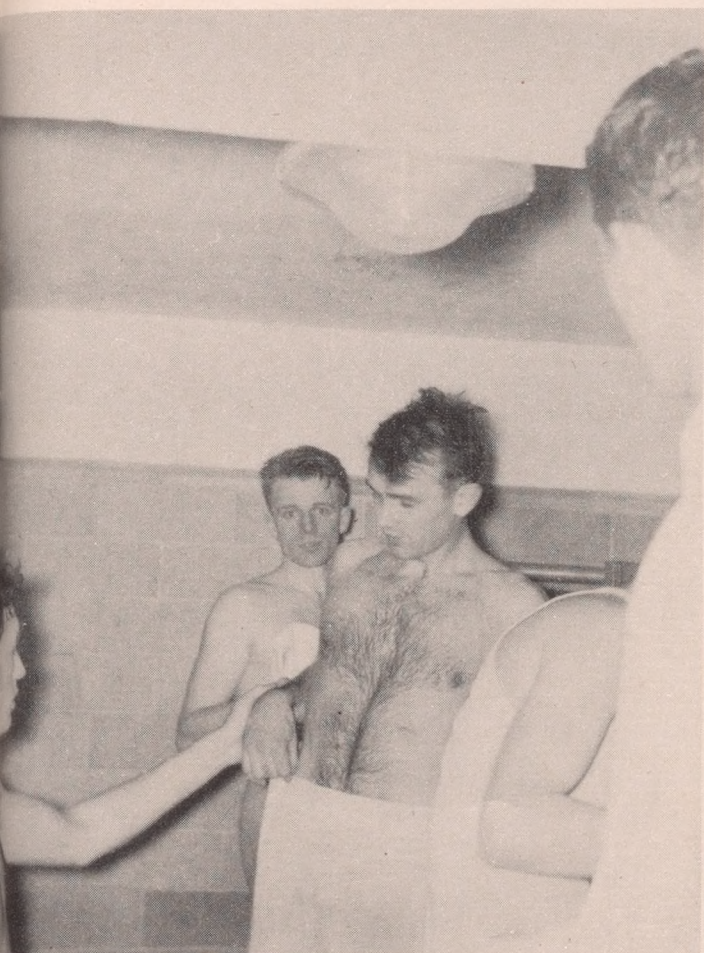

Rev. James A. Carey, Athletic Director in his trophy- and picture-lined office. Father Carey is the most rabid rooter on the campus. He makes road trips with the teams when his busy schedule permits.

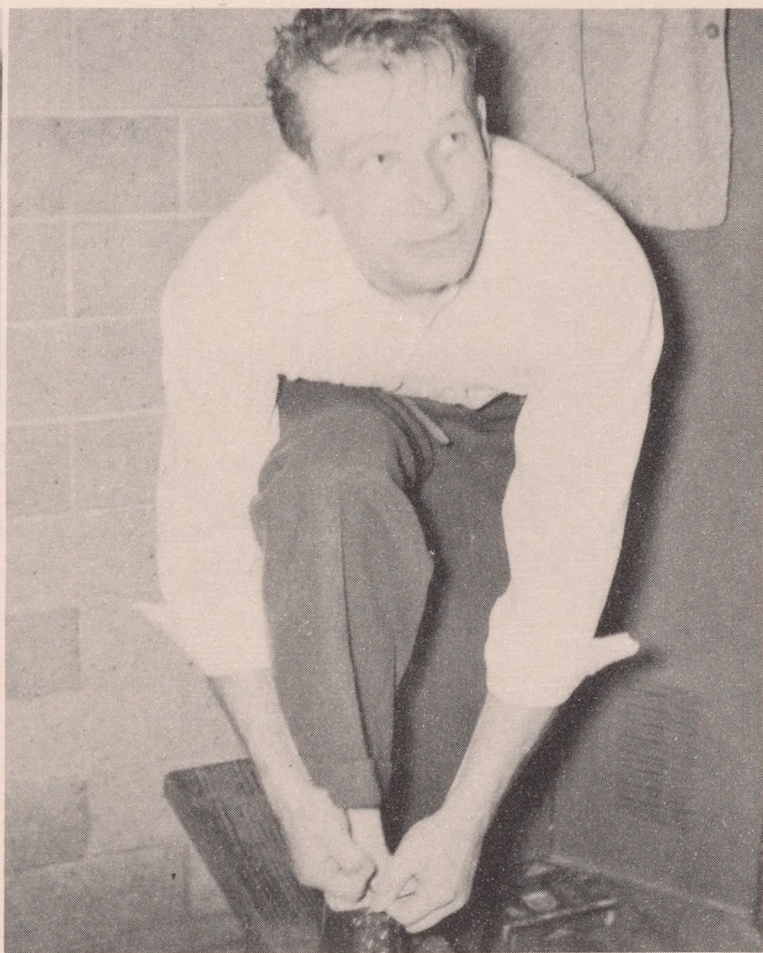

One of the bitterest games played at the Setonia gym was the tussle with George Washington University. Here Howie Janotta makes leaping grab for rebound as three capitol men battle him.

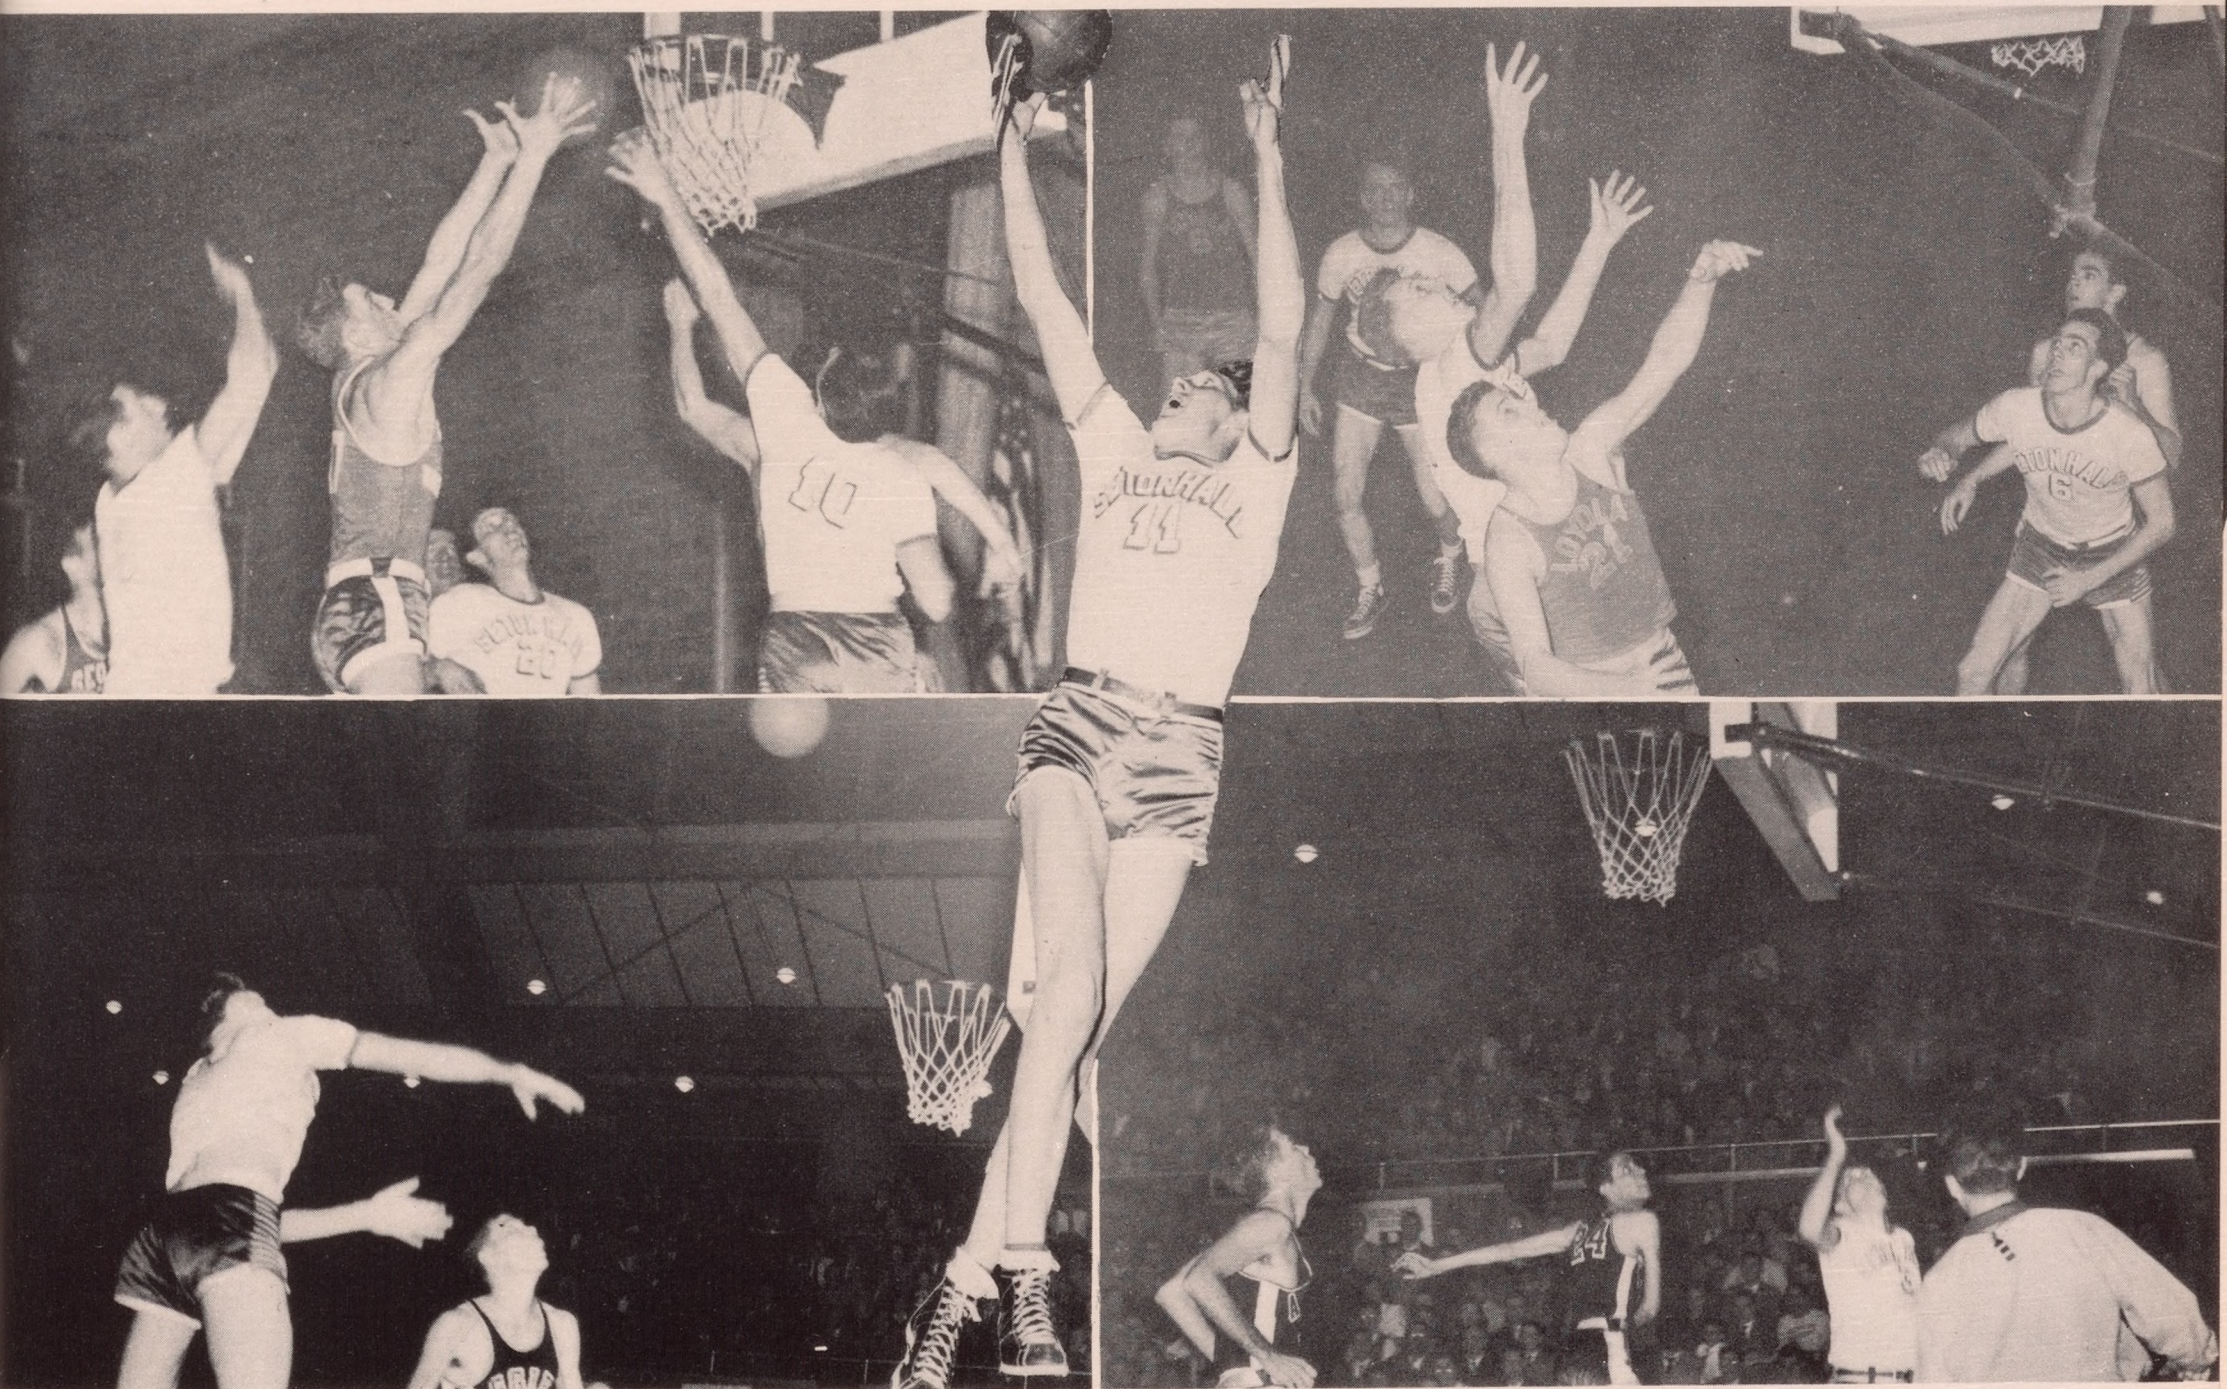

Tom Gibbons, Frank Saul, Howie Janotta, and John Reilly shower after the hard-fought Texas Wesleyan game.

John "Whitey" Macknowski, the only Senior on the 1948 Basketball Team, dresses after thrilling game with Texans in which he played his usual brilliant floor game.

Renner tries again against the tough Loyola Five. The Pirates won 60-52, repeating the victory at Baltimore, 68-63. BELOW: Thrilling action in the Texas Aggies encounter as Captain Frank "Pep" Saul lays one up. Score: Seton Hall 46—Aggies 44.

SPORTS FINAL ★ TRACK

Joe Kelley on the high hurdles.

The 1947-48 track season has been acclaimed the most successful in Pirate history. The trackmen not only copped sectional titles, but went on to capture national laurels as well. The outdoor season saw the Setonians rack up victories over such worthy rivals as Villanova, Fordham, Rutgers, and Princeton. When the boys went indoors their first major victory came at the Boston Garden when the Mile Relay team set a new collegiate record. Coach John Gibson can well be proud of his speedsters and of the masterful job they have done.

Next on the agenda was the big National A.A.U. meet in Madison Square Garden. It was at this meet that a diminutive flyer, Phil Thigpen, established himself as one of the outstanding collegiate trackmen of the nation. Phil, running against veteran competition, staved off the spirited bid of favored N.Y.U. runner Reggie Pearman. Track fans will be hearing a great deal of this lad in the future. The entire 1947-48 team will be back next year—shooting for the Olympics. Watch the sports headlines for them.

J. Shedd, H. Gates, J. Ortleib, E. Brogan, on their mark.

Coach Gibson with Fox, Tulp, Stafurick, and Marshall.

The Seton Hall College Soccer team completed its second post-war season with four wins, one tie, and two losses against the toughest competition in the state. It was in the Trenton Teachers game that the Hall showed its offensive strength and co-ordinated team play, enabling them to upset the Profs four to three, after having lost to them previously. The Setonian booters closed the season with a one to nothing victory over rugged Rider College.

Led by veteran-diver, Chet Filipkowski, Coach Feriden's mermen ran into rough waters in their first meet of the season with City College. However, in the ensuing meets with Manhattan and Catholic University, Cuneo, Byrne, and Stein paced the Hall to victory. The Catholic University meet was highlighted by Sophomore John Cuneo's winning of three events. The powerful La Salle and Rutgers squads beat the Pirates in the succeeding meets, but the wonderful performances of our men demonstrated that great things can be expected of this young squad.

SPO FINAL ★ BASEBALL

Jim Deery pegs one.

Bill Earle, Setonia's backstop.

This season the baseball version of the Seton Hall Pirates has taken the field under a new coach, Owen Carroll, who is ably filling the shoes of Bob Davies. Carroll, former star at Holy Cross, spent many seasons in the Major Leagues. All of last year's team, with the exception of Jerry Belmonte, have returned. John St. John, John Connelly, Art Woodenschek, Jim Deery, Red Sweeney, and Buddy Schwartz carry the burden of the team's hopes for a successful season.

The rifle team of Seton Hall College has been defunct since pre-war days, but Athletic Director Rev. James A. Carey has announced the formation of a team for 1948. Meanwhile, college students can be found in the beautiful gymnasium rifle and pistol range every day vying for a position on the forthcoming team. A coach for the embryonic team has not yet been announced.

Last year's golf team had one of the most successful seasons in many years. Princeton, Stevens, St. Peter's, Drew, Scranton, were victims, with Princeton, St. Peter's and Drew falling twice. Joseph D'Allessandro was the outstanding competitor on the team, losing only one match and that on the 18th hole. Manager Joseph Sotterly is the only Senior on the squad. He will be sorely missed.

TENNIS

The 1947-48 Tennis teams have been in the process of a building program through which Coach Bob Anscheles hopes to bring them to the fore in the National picture. This year the team meets William and Mary, the National Intercollegiate champs, Fordham, Army, St. John's, Lafayette, Brooklyn College, C.C.N.Y., Rutgers, and George Washington. If the Hall netmen get through the 1948 schedule successfully, Coach Anscheles believes his team will take its place among tennis luminaries in 1949. Eighty men came out for this year's squad.

GYM SPORTSFOLIO

Sports-minded students find the million-dollar Setonia gymnasium the perfect answer to the between-classes lull. Four fast alleys for bowlers and two fine shuffle boards for that game's enthusiasts keep the walls of the gym reverberating. Fencing, squash, tumbling, and shooting equipment abounds. Setonians love the place.
